

Picturesque Scene When Treaty Cairn is Unveiled

It would indeed be most difficult to imagine a more picturesque scene than greeted the eyes of the two thousand or so people who assembled, last Thursday afternoon, to witness the unveiling of the cairn and tablet several miles south of Calgary on the Blackfoot Indian reservation.

The location of the cairn is a most admirable site, a mile or so east of the grave of that great old chief, Crowfoot. Placed near the edge of a high hill it overlooks to the south the long, dry, low, gradually sloping down to the Bow river, and rising on a gentle slope to the flat where exactly fifty years ago Treaty No. 7 was signed. The exact spot of which the tablet is the witness. Women's malcontents have many a time been carried there individually from year to year making a mound that this year has been made of the bones of the ladies is said to be the event from which the historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada has its now accomplished idea of erecting the cairn.

Just before the cairn site a large Indian encampment had been erected which is said to be a replica of the lodge used for the signing of the treaty in 1877, even to the seat upon which Chief Crowfoot sat when signing the treaty. This was surrounded by many Indian tepees that from the hill was a sight well worth seeing.

The cairn itself is about 12 feet high and was erected by Mrs. Geo. McNeil, of Gleichen, under the direction of an architect sent here last summer.

Upon the east side of the hill is erected a bronze tablet that reads: "Historical Sites and Monuments Board of Canada. Blackfoot Crossing. On the opposite side of this river, on September 22, 1877, was signed Treaty No. 7, between the Honorable David Laird and Lieutenant-Colonel James P. Macleod, C.M.G. representing the Crown, and the Blackfoot, Blood, Piigane, Sarcee, Stoney and other Indians, whereby these tribes surrendered their right to 50,000 square miles of territory lying in the south western corner of Alberta. The peace and amity with the Indians of the Canadian prairies was largely due to this series of treaties."

True to their character the Indians were all ready at the appointed hour and promptly the following chief took their seats on the platform erected by the force that surrounds the cairn devoted in their most gorgeous official costumes:

Chief Henry Crowfoot of the Stumps.
Chief Joe Samson of the Crees.
Chief Dick Chief of the Blackfoot.
Chief Philip Big Bear, of the Peigans.
Chief Joe Big Dumb, of the Sarcees.

These chiefs sat at an hour for nearly three-quarters of an hour awaiting the arrival from Calgary of Judge H. W. and the Hon. R. B. Bennett, upon whose arrival Mr. Henry Scott took his place in the line of the unveiled platform was filled up with the honored invited guests.

Mr. Scott opened the program by asking the children from the two Indian schools to sing "O Canada" which was really rendered by the children and it would be difficult to think of a more fitting acknowledgment of 50 years anniversary of the treaty.

Mr. Henry Judge H. W. of the Westminister, chairman of the Historical Sites and Monuments Board of Canada, in briefly introducing the gathering, painted a graphic picture of the scene created in 1877. He said that the monument had been erected as now as possible, to the place of the treaty signed by the Canadian statesman, Chief Crowfoot. It conveyed to those present the significance of the event he represented.

ALBERTA PACIFIC GRAIN CO. BUYS BAWLIE ELEVATOR

Our old friend Mr. W. J. McNeil was in Gleichen yesterday and stated he had just completed the purchase of the N. Bawlie elevator for his company, The Alberta Pacific Grain Co. He had also secured the services of Mr. John Laid to continue as manager, who will be prepared to continue business this morning for A. P. C. Co. At present he said it would be impossible to effect the many changes planned in the elevator but next season the elevator would be overhauled and made an up-to-date plant. For this season, however, Mr. McNeil invited his many old friends to call at the elevator where his highly efficient organization was prepared to give the best possible service and the very highest prices for all grain. The Alberta Pacific Grain Co. built the first elevator when it began a couple of years ago, and the splendid service and accommodation afforded by the first elevator has been a little patronage in this district.

PRESENTATION TO MRS. A. W. BOWLES

A very enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mrs. A. W. Bowles (The Name) on Monday evening, when Mrs. Bowles, president of the United Church Circle, was the guest of honor. Communion singing was enjoyed for at least an hour, after which Mrs. Henderson read an address, and Mrs. G. Goodenham presented Mrs. Bowles with a ten dollar bill. The affair was a most pleasant occasion with the association with the United Church Circle and an expression of appreciation of the services rendered by the church.

The musical part of the program was sustained by Mrs. W. Wade, who sang "The Flight of Aye. A piano-forte duet was rendered by Mrs. H. H. and Mrs. Cantelon, while Mrs. MacNeil sang "My Darling Nelly". A gossamer contest was won by Mrs. Plaut, second by Mrs. Dufosse and third by Mrs. Thompson.

Mr. W. Brown, treasurer of the Circle, presented a very pleasant surprise when just before leaving they were the recipients of presents from the table to them. Mrs. Brown's silver tea set and Mrs. MacNeil's clock.

A great deal of credit is due the social committee, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Dufosse, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Luanan and Mrs. House for a most delightful lunch.

Asks from Saturday the weather has been good for harvest. Saturday considerable rain fell and a little sun today was a day for the harvest. The police have protected us as the farmers of a bird protest from the the police. I wish them all the good, and trust that all our hearts will increase in goodness from this day forward. I am satisfied, I will sign the treaty."

Mr. Bennett said that one of the other, Chief Dick Chief, had shown a decided regard for a democratic form of government. Chief Bawlie said, and laughter, had remarked:

"I must say what all the people say and I agree with what they say will sign."

The signing of that treaty, said Mr. Bennett, was a most interesting event. I wish them all the good, and trust that all our hearts will increase in goodness from this day forward. I am satisfied, I will sign the treaty."

Mr. Bennett, in closing, paid a tribute to the redoubtable warriors of the past. He said that the Indian people were a noble and brave people, and that the Canadian people should be proud of their Indian heritage. He said that the Canadian people should be proud of their Indian heritage.

SHOULD PLANT TULIP BULBS IN THE FALL

(By John Glumbeck)

I have often wondered why the flower loving farm woman do not plant tulips. The tulips are the earliest flowers in the spring, they are very beautiful in the garden, they are easy to grow, remain in the ground from year to year, and bulbs cost less than most other flowers.

Tulips must be planted in the fall, near freeze-up is the best time, they should be planted four to six inches apart and the same in depth. If you have any spare hands it is a good plan to put about three inches of sand in the bottom of the bed, bury the bulbs in the sand, then place three inches of dirt on top this will keep their mortal remains white grow away. Plant the bulbs right away when you receive them or place them in cold storage until ready to plant. But be should not be exposed before planting; otherwise they may rot in the ground. If bulbs are planted too early in the fall and start to grow and the bloom bud emerges it is sure to freeze and be killed. As long as the bud remains in the bulb no frost of frost can hurt it. There are two distinct classes of tulips the early flowering and the late or so-called May flowering tulips. The early kind bloom a couple of weeks or more ahead of the other, are seldom more than a foot high and contain nearly every color.

The later kind which, I prefer, are divided into three varieties, viz., Darwin, Breeder and Cottage varieties. The Darwins are tall strong flowers with large cup-shaped beautifully outlined flowers carried on long stiff stems and some ranging from almost jet black through purple and like to crimson and scarlet, mauve and pink.

Breeder tulips are not quite as tall as Darwins, but produce even larger flowers. The colors include many which are rare in flowers, bronzes, browns, purples, blue, black, deep mauve, gold, pink and dark lilac, beautifully blended.

Cottage tulips resemble Darwins and breeders in time of bloom and type of flower, except that they are of somewhat more slender growth and some have more pointed buds and are more slender in the stems. They harmonize perfectly with the others and supply the brighter shades of color, particularly yellows which neither of the other sorts possess.

Many of this family are also double scented. Some of them bloom later than the Darwins and prolong the tulip bed's series of sermons on "What is to plant a selection of all three kinds."

Here and There

Four ships, arriving at Vancouver last week, brought more than $20,000,000 worth of silk from the Orient to the markets of the West.
This is the heaviest movement of its kind on record along this coast.

The Canada Colonization Association, a subsidiary of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the settlement of privately-owned lands in Western Canada, in the first six months of the year accounted for the placement of 401 families on 97,444 acres of land.

The first passenger trip of the Leithridge Commercial Airways was made on August 17th between High River and Leithridge by a plane piloted by Jack Palmer. It is announced that commercial flight will be arranged between Leithridge and Waterton Lakes.

Already the market has come to lead all other furbearers of the Dominion in the local value of fur-try sold, not alone by reason of the great number of pelts taken, but on account of the remarkable rise in the price of the furs. In the olden days furs sold in London for a few cents apiece and is even more recent times.

An official announcement has been made to the effect that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company will construct a line from Midland to Port McNicoll. Public parades and demonstrations were held in Midland when the announcement was made as the citizens feel that the new line will mean a great deal in building up manufacturing and industrial concerns there.

Irene Castle, formerly well-known dancer, and wife of the owner of the Chicago Black Hawks hockey team, has recently been staying at the Canadian Pacific Railway hotel, Leithridge, with her little daughter.
They attended the Charlotte County Cottage Crafts exhibition recent which is held at St. Andrews every year. Kunk dancing and folk-song featured at the exhibition.

Recent changes in the department of Natural Resources of the Canadian Pacific Railway have been effected. P. L. Naimith who has been manager of that office since 1912 tendered his resignation, whereupon Mr. S. G. G. Porter will officiate as manager. Mr. Naimith will continue to retain his position as chairman of the Advisory Committee for the hotel for the past two years.

No Canadian agricultural honor has been bestowed upon the tobacco trade since the award of the silver medal at the 1906 exposition at Seattle.
The Canadian exhibit of tobacco prepared by the tobacco division of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, has been placed in the hands of the tobacco growers of the world at Olympia, London, England, in 1912. The Canadian exhibit is in competition with that of South Africa, the United States, Canada, Italy, Colombia, Italy, Greece and Honduras, thus consolidating the position previously held by Canada as expert exhibitor at the producer of the best tobacco in the British Empire.

"BEING"

I see everything I point in this world, and everything does not see alike. To the eye of a miser a guinea is more valuable than the sun, and a bag worn with the use of money has more beautiful proportions than a vine filled with grapes. The tree which moves some to tears of joy is in the eyes of others only a green thing which stands in the way. Some scarcely see nature at all. You certainly mistake, when you say that the visions of fancy are not to be found in this world. To me this world is all one continued vision.—William Blake

LOYALTY IN SERVICE

The character of the individual may be very largely gauged by the measure of loyalty he exercises toward the person or institution that provide him with employment. A real ingrate is the person who is disloyal to the one whom he owes the obligation of service.

The test which may be applied to the individual is equally good when applied to a group of persons, or organized to act as a unit. An act of unloyalty is no less culpable because it is committed by a group rather than by an individual.

There are persons who feel under certain obligations to be loyal to an individual who is their employer, though they have no such feeling when their employer is a corporation. It is the same idea that rules the man who believes to be honest but would ride free on a public conveyance if he could.

Many manufacturers and other employers complain that they are paying the highest wages in the history of their business, but they say that production has not increased and that the quality of work, if anything, has deteriorated.

It is plain that there is need of an answer to the principle of "an honest day's work for an honest day's pay." Any person who takes wages without an effort to give adequate return should not profess to consider himself in the class of honest men.

The malicious days have come The toughest of the batch The B. V. D.'s are awful cold The woolen make you scratch.

Mr. Geo. Martin, accompanied by his wife moved to Gleichen from Saskatoon, and is visiting his sister Mrs. Geo. Davidson, for about three weeks and will visit half and other western points.

The Call has to thank Mrs. R. Kerstein, of Chumy for sending to this office the biggest cabbage we have seen this season, which tips the scales at 20 pounds. It is a beauty and solid as can be. Mrs. Kerstein also sent a sack containing fine big potatoes and some monster beets. We have not had time yet to mouth 'em but they are mighty good.

The Call has to thank Mrs. Matheson for sending us a typewritten copy of her latest poem, which has already appeared in the Canadian Bookman. Her publication in the "Bookman" is real cause for extending congratulations to Mrs. Matheson as it is considered Canada's most critical literary magazine. Her many Gleichen friends will join us in this. Mrs. Matheson will be remembered as the wife of the Rev. R. N. Matheson, who was formerly pastor of the Gleichen United Church, and is now residing at Redcliffe, Alberta.

The character of "Wolf" Larsen, the brutal sea captain, who rules with an iron hand but who is a deep student of philosophy and reader of poetry, is delineated on the screen by Ralph W. Lee with even greater force than it was on the printed page. The story, in brief, concerns a rich clubman and writer and a pretty girl, his sweetheart, who are picked up by "Wolf" after the collision, and their strange adventures while under his domination.

Bowles, Mr. Leo, the featured player includes Clara Adams, Theodore Von Eltz, Stella Edwards and Mitchell Lane. They are said to vest their characteristics with vivid realism. The production was directed by Mr. Metz with the co-operation of Mrs. Charlotte London, widow of the famous author, and it is said to be a
